March 18 – 21, 2013 Russian Retail Forum

What about: Each of the conference’s four days are headed by an overall headline: Expand, Profit, Lead and Engage. For those who want to expand to Russia mainly the first day will be the most interesting because it is about the promising regional retail markets in Russia and CIS. But the wide range of topics is also about how to establish a direct communications relationship with customers and how do retailers reach success in key CIS markets, new retail projects and concepts will be presented and discussed as well as the question which winning ideas will shape the retail landscape in the next few years. Although the main focus is on Russia and CIS Russian Retail Forum offers a lot of themes and ideas being interesting also far beyond this geographical region.

May, 20 – 23, 2013 Real Corp: Planning Times

What about: The 8th International Conference on Urban Planning and Regional Development in the Information Society gives attention to the relationship between “Space and Time”. Rome as venue will show this relationship very clearly and will be a further cause for many thoughts about it. The conference is divided in five sections: The first one adds “environment” to space and time—Environment and Space over Time—and does not only ask how planning can improve cities’ resilience to natural disasters, but also has a look at the question how to handle better resources across borders and boundaries. The second section is dedicated to “Slow or Fast Economy”. Economy is the basic principle for prosperity in regions, cities and municipalities. “Timing Society”, the third section, beside others asks “Social housing: yesterday, today ... tomorrow?”, a topic with a virulence only rudimental recognized. Section 4, “Moving a Tempo”, wants to find an answer on the increasing pressure of time planning processes are exposed to. Other topics are the integration of cultural heritage in today's cities, as well as the question how cities can adapt their transportations, energy, communication networks to ever changing conditions. The fifth and last section is headlined "Times go by ... Never-ending (Under-)Development Stories" and is dedicated to the opportunities changes in time and space are offering.

June 4 – 6, 2013 EIRE Expo Italia Real Estate

What about: Although Italy is one of the "problem children" in Europe and currently not one of international investors' preferred investment targets, the country is one of the ten largest economies of the world and a real estate market of considerable size. EIRE is an event where all market players come together. What makes the exposition still more important is the privatisation programme of large properties owned by public authorities offering development potential the regions and municipalities cannot realise by themselves. However, not only the exposition itself is attracting, but as well EIRE's comprehensive conference programme. The broad range of topics comprises a closer look at different segments of the real estate markets, discussions about investment and financing, presentations of regional and urban developments and is offering a general survey of the Italian property market.

June 4 – 6, 2013 Provada – The real estate meeting point

What about: Provada, historically a national convention, is developing into a more and more international event. In this development internationally active Dutch companies such as Multi Development, ING Real Estate Finance and Bouwfonds as well as several international consulting companies have given the first push, but also exhibitors from border regions in Germany. To enhance this trend in 2013 Provada is focussing on „International Investment“. An international pavilion will facilitate the chance to exchange ideas, plans and knowledge. It will present an opportunity for both Dutch and international professionals to communicate and to establish networks.

June 4 – 7, 2013 transport logistic

What about: The trade fair for all engaged in transports and logistics takes place every two years. Over the last three decades transport logistic has developed a reputation as one of the world's leading trade fairs for logistics, mobility, IT and supply chain management. As well it is an important meeting point for all involved in logistics real estate—locations, users, developers, and investors. In 2011, 893 exhibitors from 59 countries took part in the fair, and more than 50,000 trade visitors came the New Munich Trade Fair Centre. A special benefit of the exposition is the accompanying programme. Among workshops, conferences and presentations of logistics solutions there is also a broad range of themes of a more general interest, such as European transport connections and corridors or a closer look at the single markets for logistics real estate.

June 12 – 13, 2013 GREET Vienna

What about: GREET is the acronym of Global Real Estate & Economy Talks. GREET Vienna is built on two pillars: One pillar is exhibition and networking, the other one is a comprehensive conference programme. The main focus is on commercial real estate and investment in Central, Eastern and Southeastern Europe including Russia, CIS and Turkey. But GREET Vienna also seeks to open additional windows. As an "Economy" event it aims to address other business sectors not necessarily linked to real estate but which are also doing or are interested in doing business in CEE/SEE, a large, dynamic economic region with vast opportunities. The participants in GREET Vienna can expect a multifaceted conference programme, organised by Sylvia Foissy The International Business Multiplier in cooperation with SPH Publishing House.
